

Big broad smiles have covered the faces of the orange growers of the Redland district all this season, for the rains have come "just right" this year. They have been spread out so as to form a natural check on the picking and shipping of oranges. They have kept the temperature down so there has been no "puffing" of the fruit.

Shipments of grapes from Tulare county for 1927 were notably higher than those for the preceding season, according to figures just gathered. All varieties of grapes shipped from the county during 1927 totaled 9683 cars, as against 7825 cars for 1926. The survey shows that $3,892,576 was for 1927 grapes, as against $2,756,451 for the 1926 crop. Experts say, however, there is no justification for an increased planting of grapes in this area.

A veritable mountain of "chow" will be on hand to meet the whetted appetites of Uncle Sam's tars when the battle fleet sails Honolulu next month. With 650,000 pounds of "spuds" as the piece de resistance, the U. S. S. Arctic, fleet supply ship, a few days ago was riding low under carloads of foodstuffs. Included in the thousands of cans, cases and bags, piled high in every compartment, were 48,000 pounds of onions; 28,000 pounds of apples; 27,000 pounds of oranges, 13,500 pounds of turnips, and 9,000 pounds of carrots.

The California Vegetable Union of Los Angeles has started planting about 200 acres of potatoes in the Woodville district. There will also be twenty-five to thirty individual ranchers planting potatoes this spring, with indications of a total acreage reaching five hundred. Guy Lowe, who will be one of the largest individual planters, recently secured a carload of seed potatoes from Stockton.

Announcements of the fourth annual industrial, fur and rabbit show, to be held at Compton, May 1 to 7, have been broadcast afar. The management expects to attract exhibitors from Eastern States, as well as from Western States and all parts of California. Preparations are being made for a record crowd. Due to the show dates being set for May, K. T. Hubbell, general chairman, said his committee is anticipating much heavier attendance than at the earlier date last year, when rainy weather interfered.

A conference of representatives from the College of Agriculture, the Agricultural Extension Service and several of the beet sugar companies of California met at Santa Barbara for an all-day session, Friday, March 9. This conference was called for the purpose of discussing production problems of the sugar-beet industry, and to determine and plan methods of improvement. J. W. Rooney, general manager of the American Beet Sugar Company of Oxnard, was chairman of the meeting, with Dr. W. W. Robbins as secretary.

Financing necessary to the operation of the recently organized Bankruptcy Agricultural Credit Corporation was approved by the State Corporation Department last week. The corporation will sell 4,995 shares of its common capital stock to the public at par, $100 a share for cash and five shares to its directors as directors' qualifying shares. The corporation, headed by A. W. Hendrick, is capitalized at $1,000,000. Its directors are: Hendrick, C. F. Wenthe, H. C. Carr, W. W. Hopper and V. C. Dickinson.

There must be co-operation if California's agricultural ills are to be remedied. That was the substance of Governor C. C. Young's dictum a few days ago after he had conferred in San Francisco for several hours with representatives of the Cannerymen's League on the problem of alleged peach overproduction. The conference, held in the governor's office in the State building marked the executive's first contact with the packers on the subject of State standardization of farm products, with a nationally advertised State label.

The California fig industry has a serious problem in the high percentage of spoilage in the fruit, according to Ralph E. Smith, professor of plant pathology at the University of California, and N. H. Hansen, research assistant. That the fig growers of the State may have some help in overcoming this difficulty, these two college of agriculture men have just written "The Improvement of Quality in Figs," which is now ready for distribution as Circular 311, and which may be obtained free from the college of agriculture at Berkeley or Davis, or from the local farm adviser.

Golden State

News of Interest to All

California's World War veterans served their home communities better in 1927 than did the veterans of any other state. That, it was announced last week, was the reason for national official of the American Legion unanimously awarding to California the James A. Drain trophy for community service of Legion posts throughout the state.

Miss Edna Stangland will assume duties July 1 as chief of the State Division of Adult Education, succeeding Mrs. Ethel Richardson Allen, according to an announcement by William John Cooper, State superintendent of public instruction. Miss Stangland has been secretary to the State superintendent for several years and recently has devoted part of her time to adult education work.

Announcement that the United States War Department has allowed California an additional $60,000 for use in construction work at the new National Guard encampment site near San Luis Obispo was made a few days ago by Adjutant General R. E. Mittelstaedt. This follows a Federal allotment of $120,000 made several months ago. Construction work is now in progress.

Enforcement of the $6,000,000 bond issue for State parks by the board of directors of the California State Automobile Association was announced last week by E. B. DeGolla, chairman of the association's forestry committee. The motorist's organization supported before the legislature the legislation providing for submission of the bond issue creating a State park commission and authorizing a survey by that body to determine what scenic areas in the State should be included in a State park system.

As evidence that State publication of school textbooks is a paying proposition, State Printer Carroll H. Smith announced a few days ago that he has just completed preparations and distribution of civics texts at a cost of 47.7 cents each, as compared with an average private publishers' wholesale price of 96 cents, f.o.b., San Francisco. The editions ran 125,000 copies.

San Francisco and Oakland aspirants for State barber licenses will have need for long-haired friends when they appear before the State Board of Barber Examiners next June. The board announced a few days ago that each applicant must supply his own "patient" when he undertakes to prove his ability as a hair-cutter. The San Francisco examinations will be on June 4 and 5.

Attorneys of California have been set to studying law. The board of governors of the State Bar has mailed to every member a questionnaire requiring answers and suggestions on various problems of legal procedure and from these returns plans to formulate a program of law revision to be submitted to the legislature in January. Among the subjects of study outlined by President Joseph J. Webb of the State Bar are: Improved methods of jury selection, abolition of demurrers and motions to strike out and the elimination of other time-wasting devices. Five sections—civil procedure, criminal procedure, courts and judicial officers, regulatory commissions and ethics—have been formed.

Responsibility for the failure of the St. Francis dam near Los Angeles early on the morning of March 13 was placed squarely with the builders of the structure by the Governor's commission appointed to investigate the disaster. The findings of the commission were: 1.—The failure of the dam was due to defective foundations. 2.—There is nothing in the nature of the dam to indicate that the accepted theory of the gravity type dam is in error. 3.—The failure of the structure indicated the desirability of having all of such structures erected and maintained under the supervision and control of State authority.

One of the big airships which will be used in the Los Angeles to San Francisco passenger service of the Western Air Express, was given a test flight at the Fokker plant at Hasbrouck Heights, New Jersey, last week. The plane made a speed of 120 miles an hour, according to word received here. The big monoplane will be one of five available in the service according to Harris M. Hanshue, president of the Western Air Express. A feature is that there will be an absence of noise or vibration in the passenger cabin which accommodates 15 persons. The service will begin May 1 and the 360 miles airline distance will be covered in three hours, thus providing one of the fastest services in the world. The planes will leave each terminal at 10.30 a. m. daily and lunch will be served aboard. Each plane will carry two pilots.

COUNTY DADS FOR SEWAGE SYSTEM

Resolution of intention for the creation of the new sanitation district which Dr. W. I. Merrill of Campbell and others have been fighting for a year or longer went through the Board of Supervisors Monday a flying. There was no objection from any quarter. The resolution was drafted by District Attorney Fred Thomas, who explained the procedure necessary for the formation of this district.

On May 21 the Supervisors will hold a hearing and anybody that has objections to the district being formed can state them at this time. If the Supervisors find that 2 per cent of the people of the district are opposed to the creation of the district as outlined in the resolution they must call for an election.

All this means a big sewer system in which Los Gatos, Saratoga, Cupertino, Campbell, Santa Clara, Mountain View and Sunnyvale will be linked together. Most of the towns need better sewer facilities and will need them worse as they grow in population.

Supervisors Vote For Skyline Road

The Supervisors Monday voted to receive bids to build the new Saratoga highway running up the mountain to join the Skyline boulevard. Before doing this the board approved the report of the board of viewers consisting of J. D. Farwell, Luther Cunningham and Robert Chandler. This means that the road, which will link up the Santa Clara valley with the Skyline, which will be one of the scenic routes of the country, is now a certainty.

At the meeting of the board yesterday there was only one note of protest sounded. R. V. Garrod expressed the opinion that the route chosen meant a 7 per cent grade, which he said would soon be out of date. Garrod wanted a new survey to be made with the idea of less steep climb.

After some discussion the board agreed that the finding of the county surveyor was satisfactory and they they voted to call for bids. The Supervisors hope to have construction under way before many weeks pass.

Telephone Companies Lay Long Distance

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company has secured a permit from the Supervisors to lay a conduit for its "long distance wires" between San Jose and Los Gatos. The conduit will be routed through Campbell and Willow Glen so as to include their service. This does not mean that the unsightly telephone polls between these points will come down for they still will be used for local service. This new construction work will be underway in a few weeks.

JUDGE BROWN TALKS JUVENILE PROBLEM

Judge F. B. Brown of the Superior Court was the speaker at Kiwanis luncheon Tuesday taking as his subject the "juvenile problem" of today. He stated that the fault of the present day trend of the youth is largely due to lack of proper supervision by parents. The age of the criminal is much lower today than formerly showing that many have begun such a career when they should have been under supervision and control. Reform schools are also altogether too crowded. The meeting was in charge of the underprivileged child committee, with S. Nic Hedegard, chairman. G. Logan Payne, editor of the San Jose News, will speak on "Life in Washington," next week. H. C. Smith will be chairman.

COUNTY CONSOLIDATED TO CORRECT PUBLICITY ERROR

After considerable discussion regarding the undesirable publicity that accrued to this valley as a result of the unfortunate disaster that recently occurred in the Santa Clara river basin, near Los Angeles, Santa Clara County Consolidated, at its regular monthly meeting held at the Los Altos Grammar School Tuesday noon, unanimously passed a motion appointing a committee to immediately investigate the possibility of introducing a bill in the State Legislature to change the name of the small river basin section in the Southern part of the State.

Following a very fine luncheon served by the ladies of the Los Altos Parent-Teachers' Association and a warm welcoming speech by Rev. Thos. D. Landels, president of the Los Altos Men's Club, which acted as hosts to the members, Wendell Thomas, president, introduced for consideration the aforementioned serious situation.

"I have talked with a prominent attorney regarding the flood disaster in the South and the advisability of having the State Legislature consider changing the name, due to the similarity of names of the small valley in the South and our great valley here in the North," Thomas said. "The attorney advised that the Legislature cannot directly change the name, but that a bill can be introduced and passed giving this great Santa Clara valley of ours, which from a historical point of view, was undoubtedly named first, the precedence in the establishing of our name, and thus the name of the southern valley can be changed to something far more suitable."

The San Jose Merchants' Association sent a letter to the Consolidated informing it that a resolution had been passed by that body requesting that the organization consider the matter and send a letter to Governor C. C. Young to investigate the situation and offered its entire support in action that the group might take in seeking to change the name of the southern valley.

C. C. Spaulding, Assemblyman from Sunnyvale for this district, said he would do all in his power at Sacramento to clear the situation. He said that postoffice names are often changed and that, owing to the great age of this valley, it might be possible to change the name in the South. Others reported that real estate men in the South showed prospects in the little valley and said that it was the "great Santa Clara Valley." Ray Smith of Palo Alto said that he had seen busses with banners on their sides which read, "Free Ride to Santa Clara Valley."

The committee appointed to investigate the matter is composed of Harry C. Smith of Campbell; Rev. Thos. D. Landels of Los Altos and T. H. Miller of Morgan Hill.

Following some discussion a committee was appointed to investigate and consider the advertising possibilities for a county exhibit in several of the fairs and expositions in the Southern part of the State, including the Pacific Southwestern Exposition to be held at Long Beach, July 27 to August 15. This committee is Frank Stanford of Gilroy, Ray Smith of Palo Alto and Mrs. Colbath of Los Gatos.

Miss Donna M. Winning, president of the Los Gatos Chamber of Commerce, announced that the ninth annual Los Gatos Pageant is to be held on June 22 and 23. The play, a legend of India, is called "Tahsilda," and was conceived and written by the script committee composed of Ruth Comfort Mitchell, Henry Crall, Herbert Roberts, S. D. Balch and Chas. Haywards. Arthur Cyril

RUSSIAN DANCING TO BE CLUB TALK

The few members who attended Monday's meeting of the Country Woman's Club enjoyed a delightful afternoon listening to three book reviews, followed by interesting discussion.

Mrs. L. Saunders, who was program chairman announced that the plan had been to have books by or about young people and introduced Mrs. H. P. Bean, who had chosen Booth Tarkington's latest, "Claire Ambler," for her review.

She read several interesting notes and comments by various critics and a few paragraphs from the story itself, giving a very good idea of the type of story.

Miss Helen Lumb, who has not given the public the pleasure of hearing her often, sang three very delightful solos, "Serenade," by Toselli; "A Bowl of Roses," by Clarke and "The Little Damsel," by Novello.

Miss Miriam Blaine, who acted as her accompanist, also gave a pleasing interpretation of Schubert's "Impromptu."

As her own subject, Mrs. Saunders had selected Richard Halliburton's "The Glorious Adventure." She gave a very interesting account of the life of the young adventurer and some personal observations made from the lecture which she attended a few weeks ago in San Jose.

Mrs. E. J. Price spoke briefly and humorously of the prize serial published in the Atlantic Monthly "J'Karna," the work of Mazo de la Roche, which has had a remarkable sale since its publication in meetingbook form.

Mrs. H. C. Smith gave a report of the County Federation meeting last Friday. Considerable business was transacted also. Tickets for the entertainment which the Kiwanis and the Country Woman's Club are preparing for the night of April 20, were given out.

Announcement was made that Mrs. A. Mazurova George, who recently came here with her husband to make their home, will speak at the April 16 meeting on the "Art of Russian Dancing."

LIBRARY ASSOCIATION ELECTS BOARD

The Campbell Library Association held its annual meeting at the Library building Tuesday with President J. C. Ainsley in the chair. The board of directors as chosen are J. C. Ainsley, G. E. Farley, Mrs. E. I. Price, Lillie F. Shaw, Ellen R. Smith, H. C. Smith and C. H. Whitman.

At the directors' meeting the following officers were elected: President, J. C. Ainsley; vice-president, Ellen R. Smith; secretary, Lillie F. Shaw; treasurer, G. E. Farley.

Mrs. Lillian Voge, librarian, gave a report of the circulation of books showing that during the quarter just ended, 7400 books were taken out, an average of almost 100 a day.

The library is becoming more and more popular as a reading room. The board will hold an adjourned meeting April 17 to audit the records of the year and plan for the future.

Chamber of Commerce, Monday.

Mrs. Frances Swane is happy over the recovery of her automobile last Friday by the San Jose police. It had been stolen Wednesday from the vicinity of the State Teachers' College and was but little damaged.

The Lemos brothers, directors of the Welton Stanford Art Gallery, are doing much for the promotion of art in Santa Clara valley. Beside the permanent exhibit of the Welton Stanford collection, they show pictures of different artists.

Two rooms are used for these exhibits, and new sets of pictures are hung about every ten days. The Lemos brothers are well known in the art world both for their paintings and their books.

The exhibit shown in the gallery this week is by F. H. Cutting landscape artist of Campbell. Cutting has recently been doing a series of paintings of California missions for the Warburton-Lee Engraving Company of San Francisco, who are making art cards in color reproduced from his paintings.

In the exhibit at Stanford are a number of paintings purchased by the engraving company; and altogether about 20 paintings have been reproduced in this manner.

Thirty-seven paintings are shown in the exhibit, of which about one-third are mission pictures, including such titles as "Mission Arches," the Crumbling Walls" of Capistrano, and the "Old Stairway" of San Gabriel. Although brilliant in color, suggesting the influence in some degree of the impressionists, the pictures catch the spirit of romance and mystery of the old Spanish missions, and are wholly sympathetic studies.

Among half a dozen Yosemite studies are some of the best of the exhibit. "The Morning in Glory," a large study of Mirror Lake and Tenaya Canyon occupies a prominent place in the exhibit, and to anyone who has seen the sunrise reflections of the cliffs in the lake, vivid and pleasant memories return. El Capitan, of which both artist and photographer are so fond, is inspiring executed; and Bridal Veil Falls is handled with elusive charm.

Garden Studies, spring flowers and blossoming dunes, all resplendent in color, form a considerable part of the group and seascapes at which Cutting is always seen at his best, are represented by several delightful studies.

The visitor receives the impression that Cutting shows the influence of the impressionists rather in color than form, although one or two of the studies seem to be experiments with more or less modernist methods.

There is a tendency with modern landscape artists to aim at art rather than nature. But true art hides itself in the object it presents. A canvass that breathes naturally of mountain or sea, portraying its object with fidelity, stimulates the emotions which nature herself awakens, and the artist can hope to do no greater thing than this. A picture cannot be more desirable than nature herself.

Cutting has never been influenced to any great degree by ultra-modernist art. His love of art is a love of nature itself, and he is never lured very far from natural form or color.

Attractive catalogues containing the names of the paintings on exhibition and color reproduction of one of them are being given to visitors of the exhibit.

Surprise Party

The faculty of the Campbell Grammar School tendered Mr. and Mrs. I. K. Abbott a surprise house-warming party last Thursday afternoon. The affair was a complete surprise and a very delightful one.

Dutch whist was played at which Miss Bradley won first place, Miss Naylor second, and Miss Jasper the consolation. The guests presented Mr. and Mrs. Abbott with a beautiful triple wall mirror to hang over the buffet.

BETTER HOMES SUBDIVISION OPENED

The new Hedegard Subdivision at the junction of Hamilton avenue and Winchester road is now offering a new better home opportunity for Campbell.

S. N. Hedegard opened a subdivision at Pine and Jonathan avenues in the Willows about two years ago which has been sold out. Several builders from Los Angeles have built some beautiful homes in that tract and what was then a prune orchard is a residence section with Juanita and Willow Glen way both lined with pretty homes.

Mr. Hedegard believes the Campbell tract is in a much better location because of the natural beauty and climate and its proximity to the school facilities that are such a wonderful asset. The people of the Campbell district are prosperous and progressive. This tract is within 10 minutes drive of San Jose, Santa Clara, Los Gatos or Saratoga.

Keeping in mind a beautiful home tract, building restrictions have been placed at a $4000 minimum. No temporary dwellings will be allowed and no lots will be sold to speculators unless they build within a year. The lots are 60 feet wide and some are 1/2 and 1-acre tracts.

The first home in this new subdivision is for R. E. Stubble, credit manager for the Lions Furniture Company. This home will have many attractive features as a beautiful drive, large fish pond and tennis court. The contract has been let to Mr. Jos. Hanson, who was the builder in the former Hedegard tract in the Willows.

Mrs. C. H. Antrim and children are spending the week here with her mother, Mr. Lena Rodeck and sister, Miss Mary.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Fred Evans are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Wednesday April 4, at the San Jose hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Lenox and daughters Helen and Marion went to Sebastopol Wednesday to spend the remainder of the week with friends.

Miss Elva Hoerler principal of one of the Oakdale schools is spending her week's vacation with her mother, dividing the time between here and Oakland.

Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Abbott were hosts Wednesday evening to a group of the teachers. Cards and dancing were the diversions and dainty refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Cluad Gard are enjoying an auto trip through the southern part of the State, visiting Los Angeles and vicinity San Diego and other places of interest.

The fire commissioner election Monday was due to the popularity of the candidate, a rather quiet and one-sided affair, resulting in E. C. Merrill being re-elected without a dissenting vote.

Miss Olive Hanger, who is attending C. of P. at Stockton is spending the Easter week in Campbell. She was accompanied by her friend, Miss Alice Willmartin, C. F. Hanger motoring over Friday for them.

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Fay are enjoying a visit with Mrs. Axel Fields, an old friend of theirs in Iowa. Mrs. Fields has been visiting her daughter in Los Angeles and stopped on her way to her home in Seattle, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wendell Wells of Culver City drove up Sunday and have been visiting Mrs. Wells' mother, Mrs. Hattie Baugh. They will return this week end as Mrs. Wells is substituting for one of the teachers who is ill.

James Knappen who is instructor in Spanish in the Pasadena Junior High School and Mr. Wm. McGinnis physical director in the same school drove up from there Saturday going on to Palo Alto Sunday. Joined there by David Harris they journeyed on to Marysville to visit a Stanford chum, Earl Ramey. They are spending the remainder of the week here at the H. C. Smith home.

A motion was passed, after favorable comment by many, that the Board of Supervisors be urged to provide funds for the compiling of several county maps furnishing important information that might be easily available to the public, especially in the county offices.

Ray Smith of Palo Alto introduced Lieutenant Normand Goddard, proprietor of the Palo Alto School of Aviation, saying that Goddard was following the Royal Air Service system of instruction in aviation. He also said that Goddard very materially helped to advertise this county when he flew to Oakland recently and delivered several bunches of beautiful prune blossoms to air mail pilot there, who intorn delivered them to Mrs. Herbert Hoover for her reception to Mrs. Calvin Coolidge recently. Smith also commented on the Horse Show to be held in Palo Alto this summer.

FIESTA DE LAS ROSAS

"There are more actual floats entered in the Fiesta de las Rosas parade to date than appeared in the whole parade last year." Russell Pettit of San Jose, said. "We are going to receive a greater amount of publicity through all avenues than this county has ever before received. It must not be forgotten that this is Santa Clara County's and that every piece of advertising matter reads 'Santa Clara County Fiesta de Las Rosas.'"

Will E. Miller, new secretary-manager of the San Jose chamber, said that wished "To co-operate with every chamber and that he would always think of the county as whole in dealing with matters affecting this area."

The next meeting will be held at Morgan Hill on May 1.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Staniford and Mr. and Mrs. Max J. Crow of Gilroy; T. H. Miller and O. R. Prien of Morgan Hill; Harry C. Smith and Eugene Grattan of Campbell; Rev. Thos. D. Landels, W. J. Doust, A. Christeson, Mrs. H. E. Stafford, Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Niedman, W. T. Clements, A. E. Fowler, H. N. Schroeder, J. M. Denny, Jack Gregorymand, A. C. Budd of Los Altos; Miss Donna M. Winning and Mrs. I. L. Colbath of Los Gatos; Ray W. Smith and Norman A. Goddard of Palo Alto; W. P. Wilkinson and L. C. Renn of Saratoga; Miss Bernice Downing of Santa Clara; Wendell C. Thomas, Mark A. Thomas, W. E. Miller and Russell Pettit of San Jose, and C. C. Spaulding and H. H. Wolford of Sunnyvale.

"The St. Francis Dam has broken! Spread the alarm!"

It was the voice of a telephone operator—another—and another.

Though in imminent danger themselves, as the black wall of water loosed its violence on a sleeping countryside, these young women in towns of the stricken area, promptly and coolly passed this midnight call of warning—warning of impending doom. Constables, town officials and others in the path of danger were notified by telephone. Instantly, with shrieking sirens and clanging bells the alarm was spread—and hundreds of lives were saved.

The world hears little of the "spirit of service" until times of emergency, but behind the scenes in the telephone world this spirit is always present. Telephone users confidently rely upon the devotion to duty of the men and women who make this service possible.

Army Mule Is Given High Honors

Here is "Arizona," famous mule of the Thirtieth Infantry, San Francisco Presidio, who did a lot of braying overseas during the World War. Because of his notable record "Arizona" was given an official petting party at the Presidio, during which he was decorated with a gorgeous new blanket adorned with his name and six wound stripes. In the picture with "Arizona" are Miss Pauline Harper, who helped in the petting, and Brig. Gen. Frank C. Bolles, commandant of the Presidio.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK

A Review of California Conditions from
WELLS FARGO BANK & UNION TRUST CO., SAN FRANCISCO

California Weather and Crops: A week of clear weather early in December, favorable to cotton picking in the San Joaquin Valley and rice harvesting in the Sacramento territory, was followed by a rainy period which commenced December 8 and continued intermittently throughout the State until early January. There was considerable damage from the heavy rainfall to the orange groves of Southern California, and the accompanying cold weather retarded truck crops and pastures.

The total 1927 production of field and fruit crops in California will return to the growers $386,562,000 compared with a total value in 1926 of $397,764,000 according to the estimate of the California Agricultural Statistician on January 4. His estimate for the 1928 crops, on the same date, was $375,495,000.

Citrus Fruits: Navel oranges, now being harvested, indicate that their yield will be less than the harvest of last year. The Navel harvesting season will be about two weeks late, due to climatic conditions which have retarded growth, and it is estimated that the final harvest will be about 80 per cent of a normal crop. To January 6, 7,812 carloads of Navels had been shipped from the State, a decrease of 13 per cent from last year. These early shipments chiefly originate in central California.

Canned Fruit and Vegetables: The state's canned fruit and vegetable pack for 1927 totaled 25,504,615 cases, approximately 5,000,000 cases less than in 1926, but over 3,000,000 cases larger than the average pack for the past four years. Fruits account for 16,775,235 cases of the total; apricots and grapes were the only fruits to be canned in greater quantities than a year ago; peaches and cherries showed decreases.

Trade: December volume of California retail trade was unchanged from December, 1926, but for the year as a whole an increase of 3.2 per cent is noted, according to reports to the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco. Wholesale trade for the year dropped considerably below last year's figures. Agricultural implement dealers report decreases of from 14 per cent to 17 per cent; drygoods volume declined approximately 5 per cent; grocery and hardware wholesalers also show decreases. Increased volume is reported by automobile supply houses and dealers in furniture. Automobile sales are estimated to be about 20 per cent below the figures for 1926. Bank deposits, bank debits and post office receipts are running ahead of last year in most sections of the state. Labor was not as well employed during December as it was a year ago; 781 large employers reporting to the Division of Labor Statistics report number of employees and payrolls at 6 per cent less than last year. Collections are fair to good.

Oil: California's crude oil production during 1927 was 231,175,040 barrels, compared with 224,117,013 barrels in 1926; average daily production was 633,356 barrels, compared with 614,019 barrels a year ago. It is estimated that there are now between 90,000 and 100,000 barrels daily production "shut in" in the state. Oil-in-storage on the Pacific Coast, about 90 per cent of which is in California, amounted to 139,691,423 barrels at the end of the year, compared with 144,903,874 barrels a year ago. Average daily production for the week ended January 7 was estimated to be 624,200 barrels, compared with an average production of 624,561 barrels during December, and 658,800 barrels for the week ended January 7, 1927.

Livestock: California cattle population has decreased from 1,350,000 in 1922 to 1,225,000 in 1927, while annual production of slaughtered cattle has increased during the same period from 426,000 to approximately 600,000. The reason for this seemingly incongruous situation is that the constantly increasing value of California agricultural land no longer permits the stock raiser to maintain in the state large breeding herds, with an average annual slaughter of only 25 per cent of total stock. Breeding is now done in Nevada, Utah, Southern Oregon and Arizona, and during the months of October, November and December thousands of one and two-year old steers are shipped into the state for "finishing" and slaughtering here. This state now produces over three-quarters of the cattle consumed here — 97 per cent during the grass season from April 15 to August 15 and approximately 70 per cent during the remainder of the year. The necessary surplus is produced in neighboring states. The average annual price for the grade of steers known as "good" has increased from 7½¢ a pound for 1927, F. O. B. San Francisco; on January 7, 1928, the price reached the record figure of 12½¢. Breeding of beef cattle has decreased greatly during the low price period of the past few years, and has caused a shortage in the market that will undoubtedly soon be relieved with the recovery in prices.—WELLS FARGO BANK & UNION TRUST CO.

MOVE ON FOOT TO WIDEN THE SAN JUAN GRADE

The recent proposal of the State highway commission to expend approximately $700,000 in widening and otherwise improving the San Juan grade sector of the Coast highway north of Salinas has brought to the fore a very decided and determined movement on the part of the chambers of commerce of Salinas, Gilroy and various civic associations of Monterey county to switch expenditure of this fund toward the grading and paving of the Prunedale-Rocks cut-off to the end that the San Juan grade will be eliminated.

That this movement has already attained sizeable proportions and that strong representations will be made to the highway body for the Prunedale cut-off was definitely ascertained by a Buick party dispatched to Salinas and Gilroy early last week.

CERTIFICATE OF PERSON DOING BUSINESS UNDER A FICTITIOUS NAME

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, County of Santa Clara, ss.

I, the undersigned, do hereby certify that I am in the barber business at 1188 Lincoln Avenue, San Jose, California, and doing business under the fictitious name and style of "Willow Glen Barber Shoppe."

That the principal place of business is 1158 Lincoln Avenue, San Jose, California.

That my residence is set forth opposite my name attached hereto.

L. F. Jones, residing at Rincon Avenue Campbell, California.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, County of Santa Clara, ss.

On this first day of March, in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty eight, before me, R. F. Robertson, a Notary Public in and for the County of Santa Clara, State of California, personally appeared L. F. Jones, known to me to be the person whose name is subscribed to the within instrument, and acknowledged to me that he executed the same.

(Seal) R. F. ROBERTSON, Notary Public, in and for the County of Santa Clara, State of California.

Housed in a $500,000 building provided by the gift of A. P. Giannini, the Giannini Foundation of Agricultural Economics, at the University of California endowed with $1,000,000 by the same donor, is to endeavor to solve the economic problems of California agriculture.

California now produces more honey than any other State in the Union. She has risen to this height since 1861, when the first small colony of bees arrived in San Francisco after a voyage around Cape Horn from New York. Frank E. Todd, State bee inspector, made this statement last week before the annual convention of the American Honey Producers' League and the California Beekeepers' Ass'n at San Francisco.

Fourteen days out from San Francisco, the electrically propelled ship California arrived at New York a few days ago with a cargo of fresh California fruits and vegetables. The trip, conducted as an experiment by the Panama-Pacific Company and the General Electric Company, was so successful that plans have been made to put two more ships in the same service. The California brought 332 passengers and 8500 tons of fruits and vegetables.

An army of between 12,000,000 and 15,000,000 "lady bugs" will be sought to combat the aphid pest in Kern county truck gardens during the spring, it was announced recently by Commissioner Whit C. Barber of the county horticultural department.

There were 1,254,000 barrels of apples in storage on February 1 this year as against 3,178,000 barrels last February, and 9,806,000 boxes compared with 10,435,000 boxes. Holdings of 2,321,000 bushel baskets of apples are reported for February 1 against 2,037,000 bushels last February. Total stocks of creamery butter February 1 are placed at 28,299,600 pounds against 17,952,000 pounds last year; meats, 794,319,000 pounds against 750,563,000 pounds against 69,576,000 pounds.

The trend toward small vegetable tracts, instead of large ranches, is evidenced in the southern section of the San Joaquin Valley, and indications are that within the next few years parts of Kern county will be one vast truck garden supplying California with fresh vegetables throughout most of the year. Vegetable growing on a small scale has been successfully tried at McFarland for several years, and during the past year quite a number of ranchers have set aside small plots of land to truck gardens.

One of the 30,000 California women who cook with electricity

The morning shower refreshed the air. Warm sunshine has dried the grass. It is an afternoon to be outside. Friends are coming for dinner—four people beside the family! And this woman is spending the afternoon in her garden.

She uses an electric range. The whole dinner was placed in the oven at one o'clock. At four, the electricity turned on and started the meal cooking. A Temperature Control keeps the oven at the proper temperature. At six, the current will turn off. The insulated oven will keep the meal warm until dinner is served.

That is the freedom you'll enjoy with electric cooking.

Why don't you eliminate the monotony of preparing meals by using an electric range? You can see them at our office.

New rates make electric cooking very economical
